Cindy Wyatt to GBSHOF

On Thursday, October 6, Cindy Wyatt will be inducted into the Greater Buffalo Sports Hall of Fame joining ten others who are honorees of both the Chautauqua Sports Hall of Fame and the GBSOF: Bill Bergey, George Carter, Shane Conlan, Howard Ehmke, Wally Huckno, Cindy Miller, Van Miller, Don Reinhoudt, Jenn Suhr and Tara VanDerveer.

Cindy Wyatt may very well be one of the strongest two-sport female athletes in the history of Western New York.

Cindy Wyatt was born in Buffalo on March 31, 1944 and graduated from Williamsville High School. She was one of the first women in the United States to receive an athletic scholarship when she accepted the offer from the University of Hawaii to become a member of one of the best track and field teams in the college ranks in 1961.

Cindy's early career focused on track and field where she excelled at both the shot put and discus. As a teenager, she was a member of six All-America track & field teams (1958-59, 1961-63), and set four national age group records in shot put.

She was a two-time National Indoor Champion in the shot put (1961, 1963), and National Outdoor Champion in Girls Division in shot put three times (1958-59, 1961) and discus twice (1958, 1961). When she didn't win, she was certainly in the hunt, placing second in shot put seven times in U.S. National Outdoor Championships (1961-66, '74) and discus three times (1963, 1965-66).

Her career extended beyond the collegiate level. She represented the United States at the 1963 Pan-American Games where she won a silver medal in shot and placed sixth in discus. She competed on six U.S. teams against the Soviet Union in the 1960's, placed fourth in the 1960 Olympic trials, and she qualified for the 1964 U.S. Olympic team in shot put where she placed third at trials.

After graduating from Hawaii, she furthered her education at Ohio State University with a master's degree in counseling psychology in 1969. She still kept her winning ways for the United States track team and once again was on the United States international squad.

She was selected for several international track teams which journeyed all over Europe and competed in such places as Russia, East Germany, West Germany, Poland, England and Brazil.

In 1969 Cindy decided to turn her talents to women's powerlifting and what a success she was. She won the Women's National Powerlifting Championships from 1976-79 while establishing over 20 world records, including 225 pounds for bench press, 385 for squat, 385 pounds for dead lift and the world record total of 985 pounds.

Cindy also was a leader in development of women's powerlifting in the United States and in 1978 was appointed as the first women's national chairman. Two years earlier she received another first by becoming the first woman to receive an International Referee Certification in Arlington, Texas.

Cindy later turned back to track and field, and began competing in the master's division, where she won the shot and discus in the 2011 nationals in the 65 – 69 year old group. Cindy was inducted into the inaugural class of the Niagara Track & Field Hall of Fame (1998) and in her honor, the Hall of Fame created the Cynthia J. Wyatt Award, which is presented annually to the outstanding female High School Athlete of the Year. Cindy is also an inductee of the USA Women's Powerlifting Federation Hall of Fame (2010.)

Cindy was formerly married to CSHOF inductee Don Reinhoudt (Class of 1983) who earned the title of the World's Strongest Man in 1979. It was claimed by proud Chautauqua County residents that the Reinhoudt household in Brocton, NY was the home of the strongest married couple on planet Earth.

Cindy Wyatt was inducted into the Chautauqua Sports Hall of Fame in 1994.

Huckno & Caulcrick to Section VI Hall of Fame

A football coach with three state championships to his credit and a three-time, first-team all-state running back are among the inductees who will make up the third annual Section VI Hall of Fame, Class of 2016.

Former Jamestown High School coach Wally Huckno and ex-Clymer Central School star Jehuu Caulcrick are among the honorees who will be inducted on Dec. 9 at The Columns points. He is the varsity football coach at Southwestern Central School.

Banquets in Elma.

Huckno (above) who guided the Jamestown Red Raiders to state titles in 1994, 1995 and 2000 is a 2001 CSHOF inductee. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the CSHOF.

QR Codes Added to Inductee Plaques

In an effort to provide more information about our inductees to museum visitors, the Board of Directors has installed QR (Quick Response) codes on the inductees' plaques. Visitors are now able to use QR readers on their mobile devices to scan the codes which then automatically redirects to the inductee's individual webpage at www.chautauquasportshalloffame.org.

More Than a Season by Dayton Moore

The Kansas City Royals were the 2015 World Series champions. The architect of the Royals organization is Dayton Moore, General Manager, who lived in Lakewood and attended Southwestern Central schools as a boy.

Moore has written a book in which he details his seven-part model for organizational success and harmony. He shares how his faith and leadership principles guided the rebooting of the Royals, including building one of baseball's best farm systems and international scouting departments, the springboards that allowed KC to make back-to-back World Series appearances in 2014 and 2015.

Dayton Moore has made copies of his book available at the CSHOF for $20. All proceeds from sales are directed to his foundation C You In The Major Leagues.

For folks who have not had the opportunity to visit the CSHOF in person, a virtual tour of the Hall of Fame is now an option.
